How do we protect the personal information we have collected about you?

Our employees respect your personal information. They are trained to keep it safe. We have administrative, physical, and technical safeguards in place that are designed to protect your information.

How do we use and share the personal information we have collected about you?

All financial services companies need to use and share customers' personal information in order to provide services to them. We use your personal information mainly to communicate with you, complete transactions that you have requested or authorized, administer your policy or account, and to make you aware of products and services that we offer.

As permitted or required by law, your personal information may be shared:

- With employees and associates when their jobs require it to process and service your contracts, benefits, or accounts
- With your financial advisor, representative, or firm in order for them to service your policy or account
- With third parties that perform services on our behalf. They are required to have information protection safeguards in place and are contractually bound to use your information only to perform those services. They are not permitted to use or disclose your information for their own marketing purposes

- To conduct routine or required activities such as audits and tax filings
- To participate in research studies or to conduct surveys
- In response to subpoenas and court orders or to comply with legal requests made by law enforcement and regulatory authorities

We do not sell your personal information. We do not share it with any unaffiliated company for the purpose of that company marketing its products or services to you.

We may share it with unaffiliated financial services companies to jointly market or offer products or services that may be of interest to you.

Except as noted below, we may share your information within the John Hancock-affiliated companies listed at the end of this notice to provide you with offers for other John Hancock products or services. You have the right to opt out of that information sharing.

If you are a client of John Hancock Advisers, LLC, or have coverage under an employer-sponsored retirement plan, group pension contract, group annuity contract, or group insurance policy, we do not share your personal information, other than as necessary to administer your coverage.

If you are the joint owner of a product and you tell us not to share information, you may elect to have your choice applied to all owners of that product. If you have already exercised your right to opt out, there is no need to contact us again.

We will continue to send you information about your contracts, benefits, and accounts, and we may also include information about other John Hancock products or services. Opting out will not affect the ability of your financial advisor, representative, or firm to recommend products or services to you.

How can you review your information?
