Management’s Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Disciplined Value Fund (Class NAV/JDVNX) returned 3.41% for the year ended March 31, 2025. Large-cap value stocks produced positive total returns, reflecting the favorable backdrop of healthy corporate earnings and falling interest rates. The category lost some ground in the final three months of the period, however, as shifts in U.S. trade policy began to weigh on the economic outlook.

TOP PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS

Financial stocks | Financials made the largest contribution to absolute performance due to their strong return and sizable portfolio weighting. JPMorgan Chase & Co., Morgan Stanley, and LPL Financial Holdings, Inc. were the leading contributors.

Consumer staples | Philip Morris International, Inc., which benefited from a rotation toward defensive stocks in the first quarter of 2025, was the top contributor. Walmart, Inc. and U.S. Foods Holding Corp. also helped results.

Health care | AbbVie, Inc. and McKesson Corp. accounted for the majority of the fund’s positive return in the sector.

TOP PERFORMANCE DETRACTORS

Energy | All but one holding in energy suffered losses. Marathon Petroleum Corp. and Cenovus Energy, Inc. were the largest detractors.

Information technology | After performing well early in the period, semiconductor stocks returned lower and finished as key detractors from absolute performance. Microchip Technology, Inc. and Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., were among several holdings in the industry that experienced losses.

Performance figures assume all distributions have been reinvested and reflect the beneficial effect of any expense reductions. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Due to market volatility and other factors, the fund's current performance may be higher or lower than the performance shown. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or redemption of fund shares. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.
