Management's Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Lifestyle Blend Balanced Portfolio (Class A/JABMX) returned 15.47% (excluding sales charges) for the year ended August 31, 2024. Stocks rallied as falling inflation raised hopes that the U.S. Federal Reserve would start cutting interest rates. Positive global growth, steady corporate earnings, and excitement surrounding the adoption of AI added to the upbeat tone. In this environment, U.S. equities, the growth style, and the information technology sector outpaced the market as a whole. Bonds also produced gains, with income accounting for the majority of the category's total return. Credit-oriented categories generally outperformed those with higher interest-rate sensitivity.

TOP PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS

The equity allocation made the largest contribution | Holdings in U.S. large cap, international large cap, and defensive stock funds were leading contributors in equities.

Fixed-income allocation also contributed | Positions in intermediate-term bond funds were top contributors. Allocations to emerging markets debt funds also helped results.

TOP PERFORMANCE DETRACTORS

U.S. Treasury STRIPS (Separate Trading of Registered Interest and Principal of Securities) | These holdings, which tend to have above-average interest-rate sensitivity, combined for a very small loss.

Local-currency emerging-market debt | This segment of the fund, while positive, was among the smallest contributors due to its limited weighting.
