Management’s Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

Lifestyle Blend Conservative Portfolio (Class R6/JLCSX) returned 6.55% for the year ended August 31, 2025. The world financial markets produced robust total returns in the 12-month period that ended on August 31, 2025. Investor sentiment was well supported by the combination of positive global growth, strong corporate earnings, and accommodative central bank policies. Equities logged double-digit gains, albeit with a stretch of volatility in March-April 2025 caused by concerns about the United States’ implementation of tariffs. Bonds also performed well, with the strongest returns coming from higher-yielding market segments.

TOP PERFORMANCE CONTRIBUTORS

The fixed-income portfolio | Allocations to intermediate-term core bonds, high yield bonds, and emerging market debt were among the allocations that contributed positively. Positions in bank loans, short-term bonds, and short-term Treasury Inflation Protected Securities also helped results.

The equity allocation made a significant contribution | All segments of the equity portfolio—most notably large-, mid-, and small-cap U.S. stocks, international equities, defensive equities—delivered positive absolute returns.

TOP PERFORMANCE DETRACTORS

No meaningful detractors | At a time of broadly positive performance for the world financial markets, there were no notable detractors from absolute performance.

The views expressed in this report are those of the portfolio management team and are subject to change. They are not meant as investment advice.

Fund Performance

The following graph compares the initial and subsequent account values at the end of each of the most recently completed 10 fiscal years of the fund (or for the life of the fund, if shorter). It assumes a $1,000,000 initial investment in the fund and in an appropriate, broad-based securities market index for the same period.

Performance figures assume all distributions have been reinvested and reflect the beneficial effect of any expense reductions. Past performance does not guarantee future results. The return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Due to market volatility and other factors, the fund's current performance may be higher or lower than the performance shown and can be found at jhinvestments.com/investments or by calling 800-225-5291. The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on fund distributions or redemption of fund shares. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.
