Management’s Discussion of Fund Performance

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

U.S. Growth Fund (Class I/JSGIX) returned 5.93% for the year ended March 31, 2025. U.S. equities rose during the 12-month period, driven by high-growth, high-momentum artificial intelligence and technology stocks. Early in 2025, positive investor sentiment about domestic equities after the U.S. election reversed, reflecting concerns about the potential imposition of high tariffs, rising geopolitical tension, the potential for higher inflation, and reduced optimism about the prospects for stocks with business tied to AI.
